

SAFEGUARDING POLICY & PROCEDURE

1. Introduction

This policy sets out Port Training Services (PTS) approach to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and adults at risk. It applies to all aspects of our work and to everyone working for PTS. This includes permanent, temporary employees and contractors.

The policy provides guidance to all PTS employees on the implementation of this policy.

This procedure is written in accordance with both Governmental guidelines and the locally agreed inter-agency procedures. This procedure should be read in conjunction with the Department for Education statutory guidance "Keeping Children Safe in Education" (2018). It is a legal requirement for all staff to read part one of this guidance. With regards to adults at risk this procedure is in accordance with government guidance on the protection of adults considered vulnerable in the DfES/NIACE publication "Safer Practice, Safer Learning" (2007). With regards to radicalisation this procedure is in accordance with the "Prevent Duty Guidance for England and Wales" (2016) and "The Counter Terrorism and Security Act" (2015).

PTS recognise that young people and adults need to be protected from potential abuse and radicalisation and as such that all members of staff and learners have a role to play in safeguarding the welfare of young people and adults and preventing their abuse, with specific attention paid to the safeguarding risks of Looked After Children, adults defined as "at risk", and all learners who have additional support needs. As part of the Induction Process PTS are committed to identifying learners who may be at risk or have additional needs to ensure they are offered additional support.

This procedure is made available through the centres website to all learners, and interested parties. Learners are made aware of safeguarding procedures and referral processes, including aspects of Prevent during induction and consultation and participation activities which are embedded into qualifications to raise awareness. The impact of these are monitored through Progress Reviews.

All allegations or suspicions of a safeguarding nature must be taken seriously and discussed with the Designated Safeguarding Officer (DSO) before any steps are taken.

2. Key Definitions

- Young Person – anyone classed as a child under the age of 18 years old, as defined by “The Children Act” (1989, 2004).
- Private Fostering – where a young person under the age of 16 years (under 18 years if disabled) is cared for by someone who is not their parent or a 'close relative' for 28 days or more, this is identified as a Private Fostering arrangement. Where a member of staff becomes aware of this arrangement, they must raise this with the Safeguarding Officers at Port Training Services, so they can check with the relevant local authority to ensure the arrangements are suitable and safe for the young person.
- Children Missing in Education – where young people under the age of 18 withdraw from study programmes at PTS, staff will speak to parents/carers/guardians to ensure they are continuing in education, employment or training. Where it is not possible to contact parents/carers/guardians the relevant local authority will be informed, via the Safeguarding Officer.
- Adult at Risk – (NB replaces the previous terminology of vulnerable adults) a person {aged 18 years of age and over} who has needs for care and support (whether or not the local authority is meeting any of those needs) and is experiencing, or at risk of, abuse or neglect and as a result of those care and support needs is unable to protect themselves from either the risk of, or the experience of abuse or neglect, as defined by “The Care Act” (2014).

This definition includes the elderly and the very frail, adults suffering from mental illness, including dementia, adults with physical or sensory disabilities, adults with learning disabilities, adults with acquired brain injuries and adults suffering from a severe incapacitating physical illness.

Young People

The Department for Education statutory guidance “Keeping Children Safe in Education” (2018) defines abuse in connection to young people and children as a form of maltreatment of a child. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm, or by failing to act to prevent harm. They may be abused in a family or in an institutional or community setting by those known to them, or more rarely, by others (e.g. via internet). They may be abused by an adult or adults or another child or children. It is important that staff recognise abuse, neglect and safeguarding issues are rarely standalone incidents that are covered by one single definition or category, in most cases multiple incidents will overlap one another. This guidance refers to the following specific types of abuse and defines neglect.

- Physical abuse: a form of abuse which may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.
- Emotional abuse: the persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve conveying to a child that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyberbullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, although it may occur alone.
- Sexual abuse: involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving a high level of violence, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example rape or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse. Sexual abuse can take place online, and technology can be used to facilitate online abuse. Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children.

The sexual abuse of children by other children is a specific safeguarding issue in education, recognised within "Keeping Children Safe in Education" (2018). PTS will follow DoF guidance on "Sexual Violence and Sexual Harassment between Children in Schools and Colleges" (2018) where applicable.

- Child sexual exploitation is a form of child sexual abuse. It occurs where an individual or group takes advantage of an imbalance of power to coerce, manipulate or deceive a child or young person under the age of 18 into sexual activity (a) in exchange for something the victim needs or wants, and/or (b) for the financial advantage or increased status of the perpetrator or facilitator. The victim may have been sexually exploited even if the sexual activity appears consensual. Child sexual exploitation does not always involve physical contact: it can also occur through the use of technology. Like all forms of child sex abuse, child sexual exploitation:

- can affect any child or young person (male or female) under the age of 18 years, including 16- and 17-year olds who can legally consent to have sex;
- can still be abuse even if the sexual activity appears consensual;
- can include both contact (penetrative and non-penetrative acts) and noncontact sexual activity;
- can take place in person or via technology, or a combination of both;
- can involve force and/or enticement-based methods of compliance and may, or may not, be accompanied by violence or threats of violence;
- may occur without the child or young person's immediate knowledge (e.g. through others copying videos or images they have created and posted on social media);
- can be perpetrated by individuals or groups, males or females, and children or adults.

The abuse can be a one-off occurrence or a series of incidents over time, and range from opportunistic to complex organised abuse; and is typified by some form of power imbalance in favour of those perpetrating the abuse. Whilst age may be the most obvious, this power imbalance can also be due to a range of other factors including gender, sexual identity, cognitive ability, strength, status, and access to economic or other resources.

Some of the following signs may be indicators of child sexual exploitation:

- children who appear with unexplained gifts or new possessions;
 - children who associate with other young people involved in exploitation;
 - children who have older boyfriends or girlfriends;
 - children who suffer from sexually transmitted infections or become pregnant;
 - children who suffer from changes in emotional well-being;
 - children who misuse drugs and alcohol;
 - children who go missing for periods of time or regularly come home late; and
 - children who regularly miss school or education or do not take part in education.
- Female Genital Mutilation (FGM) comprises all procedures involving partial or total removal of the external female genitalia or other injury to the female genital organs. It is illegal in the UK and a form of child abuse with long-lasting harmful consequences. It is essential all staff have awareness of FGM and are aware that "The Serious Crime Act" (2015) places a statutory duty on all staff within education to report to the police suspicions of FGM having been carried out on a girl under the age of 18.
 - Neglect: the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development.

Neglect may occur during pregnancy as a result of maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to: provide adequate food, clothing and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment); protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger; ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate care-givers); or ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment. It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.

Adults at Risk

"The Care Act" (2014) refers to the following specific types of abuse in relation to adults:

- Physical Abuse: this is usually the use of force to cause pain and injury and signs might include burns, bruising, scratches, or accidents that cannot be explained. Also included is misuse of medication or forcing someone, for example, to stay in a care home against their wishes.
- Psychological / Emotional Abuse: this might be emotional abuse such as threats of harm or abandonment, humiliation, blaming or controlling behaviour, verbal or racial insults, enforced isolation, intimidation and coercion.
- Financial Abuse: this is when a vulnerable adult is exploited for financial gain. It includes theft, fraud, exploitation, misuse or misappropriation of property/finance etc. Often valuables will go missing in the home or there may be a change in financial circumstances that cannot be explained.
- Neglect and Self-Neglect: this is when a vulnerable adult does not have their basic needs met, such as adequate food or warmth or help with personal hygiene. Signs might include deteriorating health, appearance or mood. It also includes ignoring indicators of abuse and withholding information in relation to allegations or suspicion of abuse.
- Discriminatory Abuse: this includes any sort of abuse based on a vulnerable adult's race, gender or impairment such as their mental or physical health.
- Sexual Abuse and Exploitation: this includes rape and sexual assaults and sexual acts to which the vulnerable adult has not consented, or could not consent, or was pressurised into. Signs can include changes in behaviour or physical discomfort.
- Organisational Abuse: this is poor professional practice, including neglect, and can take the form of isolated incidents right through to ill treatment or gross misconduct.
- Modern Slavery: this is when an adult has limited access to freedom of movement and / or is forced to work for little or no financial reward and denied their basic human rights. Aspects of forced marriage and sexual exploitation can fall into this category.

- Domestic Abuse: this is of the former categories of abuse being enforced by a spouse, partner or relative.

Radicalisation (All Staff and Learners)

PTS recognises our duty to comply with the “Revised Prevent Duty Guidance for England and Wales” (2016). PREVENT'S aim is to stop people becoming terrorists or supporting terrorism as part of the counter terrorism programme CONTEST.

Any specific concerns related to radicalisation and the Prevent Duty must be taken seriously and reported in line with instructions within this procedure and that of the PTS Prevent and Anti-radicalisation Policy.

3. People responsible for Safeguarding Young People, Adults at Risk and Prevent

PTS recognises that all members of staff, external partners, contractors working on behalf of PTS and learners contribute to the overall safeguarding and welfare of young people and adults accessing the service and in preventing the potential for abuse.

Within the Training Centre Manager (TCM) role PTS have identified our DSO, who will uphold the requirements of the policy and lead on all matters of a safeguarding nature. The DSO will ensure all staff receive the required safeguarding training, carrying out any internal investigations and ensure PTS are aware of and keep up to date with all safeguarding legislation and standards.

As required other staff members may be called upon to support the role of the DSO: a list of names, titles and contact details for these staff is attached at Appendix 1.

4. Dealing with Safeguarding Concerns and Disclosures of Abuse

Dealing with disclosure of abuse - procedures for staff working with all learners, i.e. young people and adults.

Concern – where staff, learners and/or external partners have any concerns about a young person's/adults welfare they should raise this with the DSO. These concerns will be discussed and a record of the discussion retained detailing if further actions are required, such as offering additional support to the individual or supporting them to access early intervention services. Copies of all records will be stored in line with PTS Confidentiality and Data Protection procedures.

Risk of Harm – where staff, learners and/or external partners believe a young person/adult is suffering or likely to suffer from harm they should raise this with the DSO immediately who will decide the correct course of actions such as a referral to the local authority's children or adults services and /or the Police. If at any time the staff member or DSO believes a young person/adult is in immediate danger it may also be appropriate for any referrer to contact the emergency services directly (999).

Abuse Disclosed by Learner

- Assess whether anyone is at immediate risk or in danger. All immediate risk and/or danger situations must be reported to the DSO and the above process followed. General lower level concerns should be reported to the DSO immediately, but as a minimum must be reported within two hours,
- Take all reasonable steps within your role to protect any person from immediate harm, for example:
 - Call a first aider or ambulance if someone needs medical attention
 - Call the emergency services / police if a crime is taking place or has taken place
 - Separate the alleged perpetrator and victim but only if safe to do so
 - Ensure the DSO and your own line managers are informed in the event of these actions immediately.
- Promises of confidentiality should not be given and the learner informed that there is a legal duty to inform an authorised agency. Reassurance should be given to the learner that the allegation is being taken seriously and the appropriate actions will be taken.
- The person to whom an allegation or concern is reported must gather and document relevant information but must not investigate the matter, they must:
 - Treat the matter seriously;
 - Avoid asking leading questions (use phrases such as "Tell me, Explain to me, Describe to me")
 - If the complainant is the learner him/herself, questions should be kept to the minimum necessary to understand what is being alleged. Care must be taken in asking or interpreting responses to questions about indications of abuse as this could influence the evidence which is put forward if there are subsequent legal proceedings.
 - Make a written record of the information as soon as possible (with notes taken in the learner's own words), which should include:

- The name of the complainant and, where different, the name of the learner who has allegedly been abused
 - When & where the alleged incident took place, including date & time
 - Who was present
 - The account of what is alleged to have happened
 - A description of any injuries observed
 - Your name, signature and date
 - The learner's signature, if appropriate

The form in Appendix 3 can be used to record the information or an email can be sent using the PTS email system to Colin.bassam@porttrainingservices.co.uk

If you have received an allegation of abuse or need further advice or guidance about an issue related to Safeguarding, you should:

- Discuss your concern with the PTS DSO immediately to report that an allegation has been made, but in any event, within two hours.
- If the above-named manager cannot be contacted within two hours of the initial concern arising, the member of staff making the referral should contact the local Children's Social Care/Adult Social Care Service's duty social worker and notify the Designated Safeguarding Officer as soon as possible about the action taken.
- If any learner is identified as at physical risk on PTS premises, the HR and Safety Manager should be notified immediately, but in any event, within two hours.
- A flowchart describing this referral process is attached at Appendix 2.

Abuse Suspected but not disclosed by Learner

- Where abuse is suspected but not disclosed by the learner, concerns should be discussed with PTS DSO who will decide the correct course of actions such as a referral to the local authority's children or adults services and /or the Police where appropriate.

Action to be taken by the Designated Safeguarding Officer

- PTS DSO will be responsible for ensuring a referral is made to the local authority Children's or Adults Services. A written record of the date and time of the referral shall be made, must include the name and position of the person to whom the matter was referred. Any telephone referrals must be confirmed in writing to the local Children's Social Care/Adult Social Care Services within 48 hours, following the procedures set by the relevant local authority.

- PTS DSO will discuss with the local Children's / Adult Services what action will be taken to inform the parents/guardians/carers of the learner and a note of that conversation should be made, together with confirmation of any steps agreed with the local Children's /Adult Services and/or the Police to safeguard the learner and/or other learners in the interim or with regard to retaining control until the appropriate person arrives. At no point should Port Training Services staff undertake any investigatory interviews.

A copy of the referral document must be kept securely, along with any internal safeguarding forms, notes, memoranda or correspondence dealing with the matter in line with PTS Confidentiality and Data Protection Procedures.

- Copies of reports, notes etc. should always be kept securely locked, and kept for a period of 7 years

Confidentiality

- The issue of confidentiality in the context of Safeguarding is very complex. How a member of staff handles the situation if a learner does not initially want to be identified as being in need of safeguarding is crucial in making them feel safe enough to disclose their identity. There are several things to consider including the possible risk posed to other, young people, children and adults and PTS's legal responsibility to notify Children's/Adult Services of confidential information, when justified in the interests of a young person's and/or adult's safety.
- If a learner has capacity to make informed choices and decisions, information must not be passed on to external authorities unless the learner agrees or unless the DSO is satisfied that there is a serious risk of harm to self, others, the public at large or where a criminal offence has taken place.
- If a learner with capacity does not wish to be named and staff are in any doubt about how to proceed, advice can be sought from the local authority Children's/Adult Services Duty Social Worker. This should preferably be done via the DSO.
- GDPR is not a barrier to sharing Safeguarding information with designated authorities.

5. Safeguarding and Allegations about a Member of Staff

Introduction

As part of PTS safeguarding procedures all staff and contractor appointments are made subject to Safer Recruitment practices including:

- Satisfactory references
- Satisfactory DBS Disclosure
- Prohibition from teaching checks (where appropriate)

Until the DBS clearance has been received new staff working in 'regulated' activity are not permitted to work alone and without supervision with learners, and a formal risk assessment is completed by the Training Centre Manager.

All staff complete mandatory e-learning training for Safeguarding and Prevent on appointment, which is refreshed three yearly.

The DSO undertakes external local authority Level 3 training for Safeguarding Children and Adults.

Recognising and responding to an allegation

The following procedures must be applied where allegations relating to a member of staff are received.

There are several sources from which a complaint or an allegation might arise, including from:

- A young person or an adult (learner)
- A parent/guardian/carer
- A member of the public
- A disciplinary investigation
- Another member of staff

The person to whom an allegation or concern is reported must not question the learner or investigate the matter further; they must:

- Treat the matter seriously
- Avoid asking leading questions (use phrases such as "Tell me, Explain to me, Describe to me")
- If the complainant is the learner him/herself, questions should be kept to the minimum necessary to understand what is being alleged. Care must be taken in asking or interpreting responses to questions about indications of abuse as this could influence the evidence which is put forward if there are subsequent legal proceedings.

- Make a written record of the information as soon as possible (where possible in the individual's own words), which should include:
 - The name of the complainant and, where different, the name of the learner who has allegedly been abused
 - When and where the alleged incident took place, including date and time
 - Who was present
 - The account of what is alleged to have happened
 - A description of any injuries observed
 - Your name, signature and date
 - Learner's signature if appropriate

The form in Appendix 3 can be used to record the information or an email can be sent using the email address Colin.bassam@porttrainingservices.co.uk

If an allegation or suspicion of abuse by a member of staff is received:

- Contact the PTS DSO immediately to report that an allegation has been made, but in any event, within two hours.

Action to be taken by the Divisional Designated Safeguarding Lead

The DSO must gather information by:

- Obtaining written details of the allegation, signed and dated by the person receiving the allegation
- Recording any other information in relation to time, dates and location of incident(s) and names of any potential witnesses
- Recording discussions about the learner and / or member of staff, any decisions made, and the reasons for those decisions
- Countersigning and dating the written record

The DSO must report an allegation to the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO) within 1 working day if the allegation suggests a staff member who works with young people has:

- Behaved in a way that has harmed a young person, or may have harmed a young person
- Possibly committed a criminal offence against or involving a young person
- Behaved towards a young person in a way that indicates he/she is unsuitable to work with young people in connection with his/her employment or voluntary activity

There is no process in place to refer an allegation against a member of staff to an identified person in in Adult Services as there is with Safeguarding Young People. Where there is an allegation of abuse of an adult by a member of staff this should be dealt with in the same way as concerns about any other alleged perpetrator. The Designated Safeguarding Officer will follow the process outlined above.

The DSO will also contact the HR & Safety Manager to agree how to inform the member of staff against whom the allegation has been made and to agree appropriate action pending any investigation (initiated by the LADO in connection with young people).

If a concern or an allegation requiring immediate action is received outside normal office hours the DSO will consult immediately with the LADO/Adult Services Emergency Duty Team and/or the local Police.

In line with ESFA funding arrangements the DSO will notify the ESFA by email if PTS, or one of its subcontractors, is the subject of an investigation by the local authority/police in response to a serious safeguarding incident.

Malicious Allegations

Where it is apparent that an allegation was made with malice a, the TCM and / or HR & Safety Manager will determine an appropriate course of action. This may include disciplinary action against the accuser, acceptance of a written apology (subject to agreement about future behaviour) or other such sanctions as are deemed appropriate.

Proportionate responses to perpetrators of false or unsubstantiated allegations will include:

- Despite the distress caused, learners who make false allegations may still be entitled to continue to receive full access to the curriculum
- Where remaining in the same organisation as the falsely accused member of staff would be prejudicial either to that member of staff or the learner, consideration should be given to supporting the learner to identify suitable education or training opportunities elsewhere
- Permanent exclusion should be considered only as a last resort

6. Working with External Partners

Where PTS subcontracts/has agreements in place with other organisations to work with learners, the TCM will ensure the following:

- Safe recruitment and staff monitoring policies are in place in line with PTS policies and procedures. For example, all staff appointments are made subject to:
 - Satisfactory references
 - Satisfactory DBS Disclosure
 - Prohibition from teaching checks (where appropriate)
 - Provision of Safeguarding and Prevent training
